RUSSIA'S FUTURE

MUST SLAVE ELEMENT

Slaves Are Real Citizens of Russia and Patriots Says
Dr. Hrdlicka, Writer for Smithsonian Institute.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Probably the most widely discussed topic all over the world today is the future of Russia. Will order and stable government emerge from the present chaotic reign of terror and enable this vast nation to take its rightful place among the peoples of the earth? Dr. Alex Hrdlicka, in a pamphlet just published by the Smithsonian Institution, concludes from a thorough study of the elements which make up the enormous population of Russia that in the end the Slaves or real Russians must prevail and maintain the unity of the nation.

Races of Russia.

The subject of the races of Russia, says Dr. Hrdlicka, seems at first glance very baffling, yet if considered from the viewpoint of Anthropology, the problem is simplified and there are seen to be large areas of racial uniformity. The earliest known peopling of Russia took place during the later paleolithic epoch and the following neolithic times, but a much more important influx occurred during the latest neolithic and the bronze and iron periods, proceeding from the great steppes of Asia. The author traces the divisions and localities of the various peoples who make up the Russian population, from the earliest tribes, the Cimmericians and Tauri, down to the present time. He notes the successive invasions of various parts of Russia by the Goths, the Huns, the Krazars, and finally the last and overwhelming Tatar invasion which covered all present Ukraine and beyond. The Southern Russians, slaughtered in large numbers or forced to flee and, to this day a large part of the population of Crimea is more or less Tatar.

Real Russians Grow.

In the meantime, however, the real Russians had continued to spread irresistibly over Europe, Russia and Siberia. The modern Russian population represents a physically strong and very prolific stock, freer as yet from degenerative conditions than perhaps any other of the large European groups. The total population of Russia counted at the beginning of the war was 78,000,000.

Dr. Hrdlicka then considers the "non-Russian" races of European Russia, including the Poles, Lithuanians, the Tchouds and Finns, and the Pinnos-Ugric tribes of the interior, the Laps and the Samoyeds, the Tartars, the tribes of the Caucasus, and finally the immigrant Jews and Germans, of which last there were practically 2,000,000 at the beginning of the war.

In summing up his studies, the author says: "Leaving aside all details and localized ethnic peculiarities, we find that the racial problems of European as well as of Asiatic Russia are relatively simple. (1) We find over a large portion of the vast territory a thin substratum of Pinnos-Ugric, who are of western Asiatic origin and carry with them varying traces of Mongolian admixture. (2) The southern portions of Russia from remote times constitute a broad avenue for the movement of Asiatic peoples in a westerly direction. These peoples are partly of the present day, and partly Mongolian. Their influence, both racial and cultural, on the country and its people is marked and in a measure persists even to the present day. (3) Along the Baltic we find Finnish tribes in the north and Lithuanians, probably of mixed Slavic and Germanic origin, farther southward and westward. (4) All the rest of the great region is Slav, Polish in the west, Russian in the center and eastward.

It is eminently true that Russia is essentially a Slav country, which today is equally true of Siberia and in a large measure even of the Caucasus. In Central Asia the Russian element is still considerably exceeded by the Turkic-Tatars. From the anthropological standpoint, the Russian stock is well developed, virile, resistant, and full of potential force. It may be said to be the great human reserve of the European population. If it has not advanced in culture as much as the western and southern European nations, the causes of this are not racial but are seen to have been not inherent or racial, but geographic and circumstantial. It must not be forgotten that Russia by acting from its inception, the buffer between the rest of Europe and Asia, and by becoming later the principal check of the Turk, has deserved the deep gratitude of the more western and more favorably situated nations.

"What will be Russia's future? Perhaps the anthropologist may attempt to predict where others would hesitate. The Russian Slaves taken collectively, count today over 100,000,000, and they are increasing yearly by the excess of births over deaths by 1,700,000. This rate of increase is greater than that of any other people in Europe except some of the other branches of Slavs, and with the mass of the people belonging to the conservatives, simple-living rural population, can not be expected to become much reduced in the near future. Such a rate of increase of this otherwise strong and able portion of the world's population, which has momentum which in the end must prevail over all opposition. Russia can not but have a future commensurate with her potential power."

This paper will be distributed by the Smithsonian without charge to public libraries and other educational institutions.

STOP HEADACHE AVOID DANGER

Doctors Advise Aspirinal
Elixir to Remove Cause as Well as Relieve the Pain
Quicker.

The medical profession is strongly opposed to the use of the toxic poisons that merely relieve the pain. They are warning the public that the cause of the headache should also be removed. That is why physicians and druggists are so delighted with the new Aspirinal Elixir that is sold under the two-minute guarantee. They know Aspirinal also removes the cause of bilious and sick headaches by gently acting on the liver, correcting biliousness and constipation and preventing the return of the headache the next day.

The next time you have a headache go to your nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you one or two teaspoonful (according to severity), in a little water or your favorite soda fountain drink. With your waiter in your hand count off two minutes and call for your money back, as per manufacturer's guarantee. If you can't feel your headache fading away within the time limit, your druggist invites you to try Aspirinal, so don't be bashful. Everybody is doing it. Same guarantee applies to colds, coughs and neuralgia.

METHODISTS BOOST NEW VICTORY LOAN

Seventeen Thousand Ministers
Pledge Services to Help
Raise Needed Billions.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2.—(Sp.)—The services of the entire Methodist centenary organization, together with 17,000 Methodist pastors and 75,000 Methodist minute men, were pledged to the government to put over the Victory Liberty loan at a session of the National centenary committee, which has just ended at Columbus, O., according to a statement here by H. C. Wilson, national Southern representative, for the 105,000,000 centenary movement, who, with his associate, Dr. A. C. Goddard, executive secretary of the Chattanooga area, returned from Columbus today.

Not to put any obstacle in the way of the government, the Methodist intensive financial drive was postponed until May 15-16 in order to give precedence to the Victory loan. The Methodists also placed themselves on record against any collecting conventions during the loan drive.

"Wherever regular services or special centenary meetings are held in local communities, opportunity is to be given to the loan committee to present the loan campaign and to sell bonds," said Mr. Wilson. The centenary publicity department is to get behind the Victory loan "tooth and nail." The Methodist press is to strain every effort to promote the loan. A special edition of "Miles," the organ of the Methodist minute men, is to be issued at once and the minute men's services tendered to the government. Throughout the South, we shall bend every effort to make the Victory loan campaign ours just as much as if it were the Methodist centenary drive. Every area secretary from the 29 areas of the centenary was present at Columbus. There was unanimous approval of the plan, and it was the first time any great religious movement has been turned over bodily to the government. That means that 100,000 Methodists will get behind the Victory loan even with greater enthusiasm than they might have originally planned."

The action of the Methodist centenary Secretary Glass was advised at once.

U. S. ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO SPEAK AT JACKSON

JACKSON, Miss., April 2.—United States Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer will be the principal speaker before the meeting of the Mississippi Bar association to be held at Clarksdale, May 1, according to announcement from officials of that organization here. Members of the association are expecting an unusually large attendance at the convention because of Mr. Palmer's presence. The attorney-general will probably speak on the league of nations from a legal standpoint.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By Taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I fully believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."—MISS CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it. All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

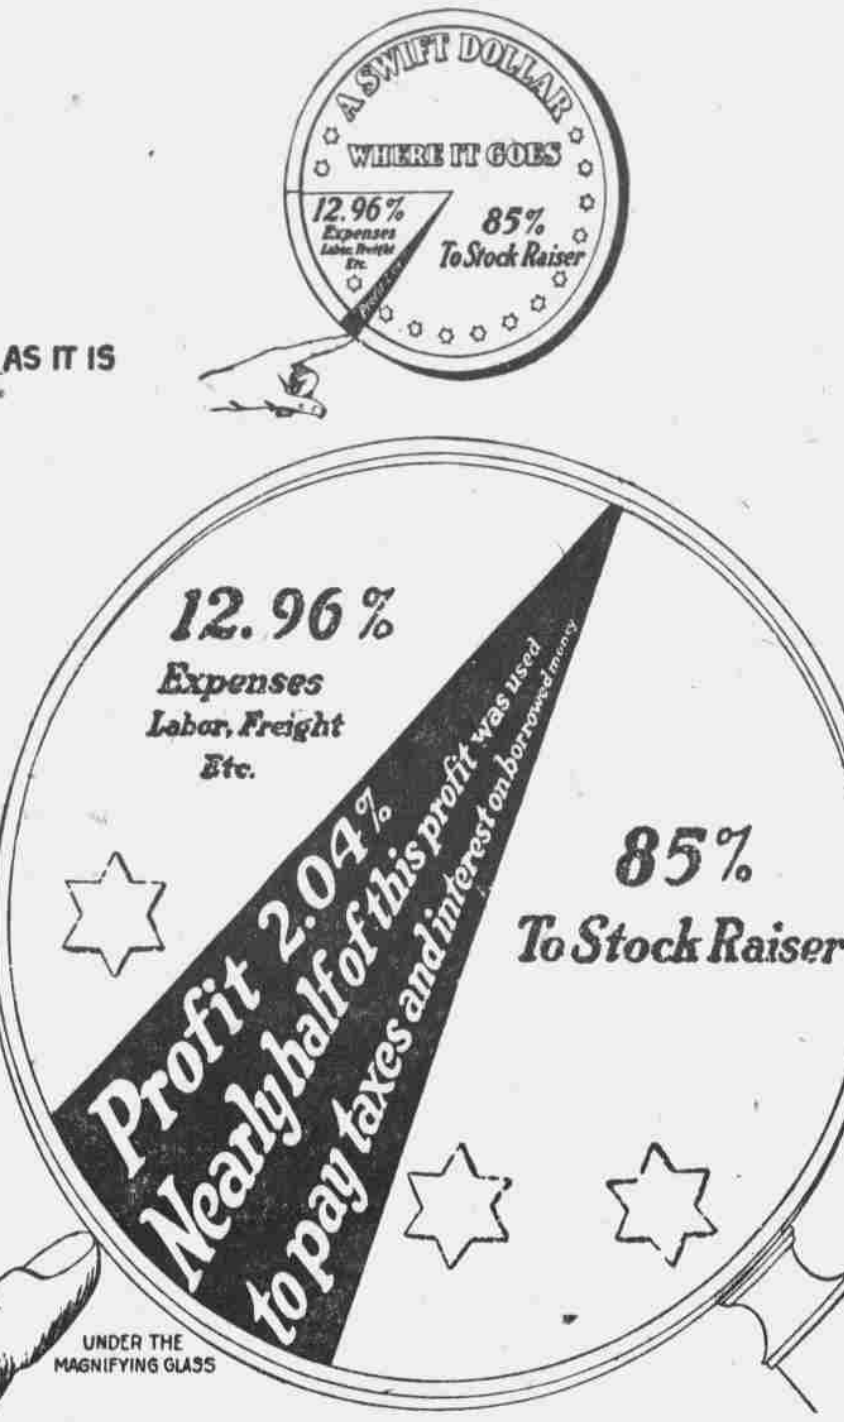

For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SUIT FILED TO REVOKE MAN'S NATURALIZATION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 2.—Suit to revoke naturalization of Alexander Frank, former resident of Newport, Ark., was filed in federal district court Tuesday by M. B. Bevington, chief of the Bureau of Investigation. The suit is said to be the first of its kind ever filed in the United States.

The complaint says that Frank was an avowed German sympathizer and that his naturalization in circuit court at Newport in January, 1918, was irregular and obtained by fraud. The complaint says that Frank left Newport for Paris unknown to his family, and given a terrible beating by A. Bullard, of Newport, because of Frank's alleged rejection of the success of the great German drive in France. The complaint says that Newport residents raised a fund by popular subscription to buy Bullard a handsome gold medal.

SHERIFF IN COURT FOR NOT HAVING DEAD NEGRO

JACKSON, Miss., April 2.—The most unique case in judicial annals of this county and unusual in the state, began here Tuesday evening. O. J. Turner, sheriff of Humphreys county, was arraigned on a charge of failure to produce Eugene Green, negro, for habeas corpus proceedings. Green was located by a mob at Belmont, Miss., and was thrown in the Mississippi. The remains have not been recovered. Green shot and seriously wounded William Hagan, town marshal of Belmont. Green's attorney caused the arrest of the sheriff, claiming that the sheriff was ordered to produce Green in court March 15 and failed to do so. The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.
